This e-book is dedicated to my brother James, my wife Maxine, and my children and my grandchildren. My family is the most important part of in my life. All the stories I have written are centered on them.

There was in my bedroom 2 old wooden beds.

The beds had 4 heavy wooden legs.

One bed was on top of the other and this is called a bunk bed.

Every night my brother James slept on the top bed and I slept on the bottom one.

One night the top old wooden bed broke and it fell on top of me.

I yelled at James, "Ow, your bed has broken and it is on top of me! I'm hurt so get up and get your bed off of me!"

James said, "Oh David your dreaming again!"

And then he went back to sleep. I could not believe it when the bed broke and he did not wake up to the loud noises click, clack, and snap! But he just laid on his bed and he did not say anything.

I yelled downstairs to my Mom and Dad to help me.

They hurried upstairs to our bedroom and they woke up my brother James.

They told James to get up and he quickly got up off of the bed.

Then they picked up the bed off of me and put it on the floor. They checked my body over for injuries and I only had couple of small cuts and bruises. This was true because the blankets on my bed cushioned the fall of my brother and his bed on top of me. But my brother was not hurt at all.

Finally James and I went into family room and slept the rest of the night in a calm hide-a-bed.
